BLOOMSBURG — Those who want one of the new jobs at Magee Rieter should register at the CareerLink office in Espy.

Magee officials felt that CareerLink would be the best place to find area residents who have lost jobs during recent plant closings and layoffs, said Roger Brown of Magee's human resources.

The Bloomsburg plant should begin hiring within the next "couple weeks," Brown said.

Workers will undergo a period of training before being placed on the production floor to handle the new contracts Magee has won in recent months, he said.

The local CareerLink is at 351 Tenny St., across from the Scott Township municipal building.
